Washington Denies Intent To Escalate War By Raids

ROBERT D. ROSS, 35, Flint, was named Wednesday in a federal bank robbery warrant issued by U.S. Commissioner John Erickson of Escanaba in connection with the $32,000 armed robbery Monday of the Bark River State Bank. He is in custody in Superior, Wis. Two other men are still being sought.

Two More Men Named In Bank Job Warrants

By DAVE ANDREWS

Two more Flint area men were named Wednesday night by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in warrants issued by connection with the $32,000 robbery Monday of the Bark River State Bank.

They are Roy E. Waldo, 34, and Clarence Waldo, 30, brothers.

Already held in the Douglas County jail, Superior, Wis., on the same bank robbery case is Robert Dewayne Ross, 35, of Flint.

The warrant for Ross was issued in Escanaba Wednesday by U. S. Commissioner John Erickson. The warrants for the Waldo brothers were issued today in U. S. District Court in Marquette, according to FBI agents.

Sgt. W. I. Treichel, commander of the Gladstone Post of the Michigan State Police, said FBI agent Robert Reynolds, Sault Ste. Marie, authorized the Waldo brothers named as result of investigation in the case. Reynolds said evidence gathered was sufficient to implicate the two men.

Still At Large

The two Waldo brothers were still at large this morning, but State Police and FBI men in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota are pressing their search.

Ross was arrested and jailed in Superior, Wis., Tuesday night by Superior police after an alert flashed by Duluth, Minn., police. He was found in possession of $7,195 in cash and travelers checks believed stolen in the Bark River armed robbery.

Reynolds said Wednesday night that Ross probably would be brought back to Michigan for arraignment on the bank robbery charge, either in the Upper Peninsula or in Grand Rapids. He is held in lieu of $20,000 bond after his arraignment before U. S. Court Commissioner James Lavelle in Superior on a fugitive warrant for forgery.

(A report today that Ross was in custody of the U. S. Marshal in Milwaukee, Wis., was unconfirmed.)

Car Not Stolen

State Police, meanwhile, determined that the 1966 Cadillac used as a getaway car in the bank robbery was not stolen, but instead belonged to the Waldo brothers. The car was found abandoned Tuesday at the Merrill, Wis., airport, where a man answering Ross' description boarded a chartered plane for Minneapolis, Minn., Monday night.

Police in Superior said Ross was arrested driving a car apparently leased from a St. Paul, Minn., rental agency.

State Police also said the New York license plates which were on the getaway car at the time of the robbery and were found Tuesday near Tipler, Wis., were stolen. The Michigan license plates on the car when it was located at Merrill, Wis., were also stolen.

The investigation has been directed out of the Gladstone Post by agent Reynolds with cooperation from State Police Det. Sgts. Edwin Hill and Wallace Pletski of Marquette and Sgt. Treichel and troopers from the Gladstone Post.

Defense Study Urges Drafting Young Eligibles

WASHINGTON (AP)—A long-awaited Defense Department study concluded today that the draft should be redesigned to induct the youngest eligible men first and not men nearest 26—"those who are the most settled in their careers."

The change would shift the emphasis to the 19-20 age bracket.

"Combat commanders prefer the younger age group" the study said, "and about eight of 10 volunteers are in the age group under 20."

The study, presented to the House Armed Services Committee by Asst. Secretary of Defense Thomas D. Morris, made these other principal points:

—The United States can not look forward to discontinuing the draft in the next decade unless changing world conditions reduce needs substantially below the force levels required since Korea.

—An all-volunteer force cannot be justified because it would cost anywhere between $4 billion and $17 billion to increase military pay enough to attract the volunteers needed even for a pre-Viet Nam force of 2.7 million. More than 3 million are in service now.

—The present deferment system is "basically sound."

Morris, in charge of manpower for the Defense Department, testified as the committee wound up its hearings into the operations of the Selective Service System.

The Pentagon study was ordered by President Johnson two years ago but had not been made public, despite some grumbling from Congress.

Morris told the committee the report indicates that volunteer service should continue to be emphasized and civilians should replace military men wherever possible.

In addition, he said, the nation should "perfect techniques of remedial training and physical rehabilitation so as to make military service available to every man who wishes it and is able to serve."

Baghdad Tells Of Take-Over By Iraqi Army

WASHINGTON (AP)— Baghdad Radio, monitored here, reported today a revolution apparently ousted the government of Iraq Wednesday night.

The Iraqi radio said "the army will assume power" and "the revolution seeks to establish security internally."

Official announcements on the radio were made in the name of Arif Abdel Razzaq. A man with that name had been Iraq's prime minister for 11 days in September 1965.

Razzaq's statements were made in the name of the "council of the Revolutionary Command." The statements said that the revolutionary command will support the foreign policy of the United Arab Republic, for nonalignment and for peaceful coexistence.

Razzaq imposed a curfew and closed all airports in Iraq.

Baghdad Radio did not say what happened to the president, Maj. Gen. Abdel Rahman Gen. Arif became president last April when his brother, Abdel Salam Mohammed Arif, was killed in a helicopter crash.

Foreign Students See Allegan 4th

The students, sponsored by the American Field Service, have been on a year-long tour of the United States.

Raiders Strike Hanoi Area Oil Storage Today

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American bombers attacked Communist fuel depots in the vicinity of Hanoi for the second straight day today, the U. S. command announced.

Both Navy and Air Force planes participated in the raids, which hit fuel dumps around the capital of Communist North Viet Nam.

The closest raid today to Hanoi was seven and a half miles from the capital, a U. S. spokesman said. Wednesday, in their closest penetration to Hanoi, Air Force bombers smashed a big fuel depot only three miles from the heart of the city.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage done by the raiders.

An Air Force spokesman said no Communist MIG jets were sighted and no surface-to-air missiles were fired before the American planes roared away.

The raids continued the American strategy designed to deprive the North Vietnamese army of its vital fuel supplies and thus hamper its movement of men and supplies to the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Earlier U.S. military officials proclaimed the attacks Wednesday on the fuel depots at Hanoi and Haiphong a spectacular success, and an Air Force general termed them the "most significant, most important strike of the war."

"This ought to prove that we can take out any military target we want to, although this is no sign that we will do that," added Maj. Gen. Gilbert L. Meyers, deputy commander of the 7th U.S. Air Force.

Today, the U.S. command announced, Navy planes attacked a key radar site 38 miles north of Hanoi and a fuel dump 25 miles north of the capital in the area of Bac Giang, while Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs attacked the Nguyen Khe fuel depot seven and a half miles north of Hanoi and the Viet Tri fuel dump 28 miles northwest of the Red Capital.

Honor Dr. Esmay

AMHERST, Mass. (AP)—The American Society of Agricultural Engineers honored Dr. Merle Esmay of Michigan State University Wednesday for his research aimed at improving farm structures. Esmay, who received the metal building manufacturers' award at the meeting of the engineering group, helped develop types of poultry housing now used almost universally in Michigan.

DRAGGING OPERATIONS for the body of Ann Cole, 15, of 506 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, began Wednesday afternoon in an area north of Saunders Point. In the boat are Deputy Sheriff Al Wiles (at motor) and Paul Cole, the missing girl's father. (Daily Press Photo)

Skindivers Seek Body Of Gladstone Girl, 15

GLADSTONE — State Police skindivers from Marquette and Manistique resumed their search this afternoon for the body of a Gladstone girl believed drowned in deep water off Saunders Point.

Missing is Ann Cole, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cole, 506 Wisconsin Ave.

Gladstone police and Delta County Sheriff's officers were aiding in the search.

Officers said Miss Cole and Colleen Bruntjens, 15, Rte. 1, Gladstone, were wading off the north side of the point beyond the city electric generating plant about 3:20 p. m. when Miss Cole stepped off a dropoff into deep water.

Miss Bruntjens ran for help to the power station, but by the time employes had returned with a rope Miss Cole had disappeared.

Dragging and search operations Wednesday were hampered by wood slabs and old dock pilings in the area from the old Saunders sawmill. Water ranges in a channel up to 45-50 feet deep.

Delta County Sheriff's officers dragged the area from a boat until dark last night. The search was resumed early this morning.

The point is not supervised for swimming and has been the scene of several drownings in the past.

The drowning was the second in Delta County this year and the second this week. Sunday night, Harvey Bellefeuil Jr., 16, of Wilson, drowned while swimming at the Escanaba Bathing Beach.

Jerry-Hubert Differ; Politely

By The Associated Press

Detroit's Mayor Jerome Cavanagh shared the spotlight with Vice President Hubert Humphrey Wednesday but still voiced opposition to some parts of the Johnson Administration's foreign policy.

Humphrey and Cavanagh were main speakers at the national Jaycees convention in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

The vice president departed from his prepared text three times to mention Cavanagh, who is running against former Gov. G. Mennen Williams for the Democratic U.S. senatorial nomination.

Cavanagh, asked later for a comment on the vice president's speech which dealt mainly with Viet Nam said:

"It obviously stimulated the crowd. He defended the administration's position with which I differ."

West Virginia Woman Victim Of Self-Immolation

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—A young mother of four died in a hospital Wednesday night after she apparently saturated her body with gasoline and set it afire, authorities said.

Mrs. Carol Fisher, 27, of nearby Tyler Mountain, died in a South Charleston hospital 18 hours after a neighbor went to her aid in the back yard of the Fisher home. No reason was given by officials for the apparent self-immolation.

Three Big Banks Hike Loan Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chemical Bank New York Trust Co., fifth largest bank in the nation, and two other banks, in Chicago and Los Angeles, have hiked their prime interest rate from 5½ to 5¾ per cent. This is the minimum rate on loans to businesses.

If it becomes a general pattern, the one-quarter per cent increase announced Wednesday would be the third boost in the prime interest rate since last December by banks across the country.

There were indications other large banks would follow suit.

The earlier increases of Dec. 6 and March 10, each amounting to one-half per cent, were each followed by boosts in lending rates to consumers.

State usury laws set rigid ceilings on what lenders may charge on consumer loans, and bankers said this would be the limiting factor.

Criticism And Praise Echo In World Capitals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The worldwide dispute over U.S bombing of oil installations on the outskirts of Hanoi and Haiphong flashed anew on Capitol Hill today with a call from Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., for an explanation why the United States "drastically escalated" the Viet Nam war.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a persistent critic of administration policy in the Orient, addressed his demand to Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, a witness before the committee in what was scheduled as an inquiry into problems of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Ball defended President Johnson's decision on the air strikes as prudent and necessary, and drew backing from Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio.

New voices joined in the Communist chorus of denunciation of the bombing which echoed around the world.

The Vatican joined those who have expressed "regret" and "worries" over the development.

Lausche, who has often defended administration actions in Viet Nam, demanded that Sulbright say what his alternative would be — "What do you propose to do?"

"Proposing Nothing"

Fulbright said he was only proposing that the undersecretary discuss "the consequences" of the U.S. actions.

"I respectfully say to you that you are proposing nothing," Lausche retorted.

Fulbright explained his introduction of the issue by arguing that the war in Southeast Asia has such a worldwide impact it would be "futile" to discuss NATO without considering Viet Nam.

In Japan, Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shinna termed the action "an inevitable step" but student protest marchers planned demonstrations.

At home, Johnson administration spokesmen emphasized that the United States was "not attempting to escalate the war" with Wednesday's air strikes.

Abroad, the first reaction was mostly critical to the bombings which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said inflicted heavy damage on the facilities which represented over 60 per cent of North Viet Nam's remaining oil storage capacity. He said one American plane was downed.

McNamara told a news conference that every effort was made to prevent harm to civilians and to avoid destruction of nonmilitary facilities.

But a North Vietnamese army communique charged the U.S. planes "indiscriminately bombed and strafed residential and economic areas, causing human and material losses to our people." It made no mention of damage to the vital oil storage complexes.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey countered this claim with a declaration that "no civilian casualties resulted." He told a news conference in Detroit "the bombings were conducted under very careful control and amazing precision."

He said he doubted the bombings would escalate the war and said the decision was to "bomb military targets for military reasons and with military efficiency."

Allies Told

He said American allies, including Britain, were told of the decision in advance of the air strikes.

The vice president said the reaction of British Prime Minister Harold Wilson was not unexpected. Wilson had expressed regret over the bombings and said Britain was unable to support the action.

Wilson's statement drew a sharp retort Wednesday night from Duncan Sandys, a Conservative legislator.

Sandys, a Cabinet minister in the last Tory government and former son-in-law of the late Sir Winston Churchill, said Wilson's criticism was "a stab in the back which will long be resented in the United States."

To Celebrate 50 Years Of Marriage

Ike And Mamie Find Last Years Are Happiest

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Ike and Mamie Eisenhower, looking back over 50 years of married life, have decided "these last years" are the happiest.

For former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, it's because he has more time for such things as exploring supermarkets or painting "anything that intrigues me."

For his wife, the former Mamie Geneva Doud, it's because she has a home of her own for the first time since she married a young Army lieutenant in the parlor of her mother's red brick house in Denver July 1, 1916.

In a rare joint interview, the famous couple reviewed their lives together — the moments of great tragedy, like "the death of our first son," the exciting moments "when we saw our first grandchild," and the great moment "when I was inaugurated as president."

Eisenhower said he didn't want anyone to think he was "a downtrodden slave" in the White House. He considered the eight years — the longest they ever lived in one place — "a very thrilling, very exciting, very humbling experience."

He called the White House "a sort of hotel," roomy and nice but a place the New York tax department didn't even consider his official residence. While there, he said, he had to pay New York taxes on his presidential salary until he finally took up residence in Gettysburg in 1955.

At the interview they had gaiety about them — Ike at 75 and Mamie at 69. They looked younger than their years. As grandparents, they expressed optimism about the youth of America.

Eisenhower said he believed the good, finely educated, understanding youngsters would "take over from the cockeyed kooks," whose exhibitionist antics "make us look terrible."

Sitting in leather arm chairs in his office on the campus of Gettysburg College, the Eisenhowers took note of the milestone in their lives with recollections ranging from Bible reading and Victorian morals to sobering thoughts of their recent illnesses.

"Gen. Eisenhower," as he now is referred to, did most of the talking as he presided jovially in a gray business suit. But Mamie often chimed in. She wore her famous bangs with a bright orange headband matching her orange summer dress.

Lesson Of Rome

They had a bit of advice amid the nostalgia.

Discussing moral standards, Ike pointed to the lesson of the affluent Roman civilization which he said had disappeared "when licentiousness became habit."

Asked whether he thought Victorian morals should be revived, the former president said, "I don't think the Victorian was really an ideal age." He said he liked the present "more independent style of thinking" because "we are more frank."

And, he suggested, "all of us — schools, churches, parents — must keep re-emphasizing the basic values that have marked any civilization that was still aggressive, strong and virile. When we lose sight of those, then we become jellyfish."

Mamie had a word for brides. "Times haven't changed," she said, since she was 19 and took her marriage vows with a West Point graduate of 25. "Marriage is something you really have to work at —it just doesn't happen."

FORMER PRESIDENT and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, while posing for their golden wedding anniversary portrait at their Gettysburg home, look back on 50 years of married life and decide that the last years have been the happiest. Ike, at 75, and Mamie, now 69, are the first presidential couple to celebrate 50 years of marriage since John Quincy Adams and his wife, Louisa, did in 1847. AP Wirephoto)

Medicare Setup Ready Here

Service Starts On Friday

Local arrangements for the beginning of medicare are about complete. Arnold T. Williams, Social Security district manager, here said today that all steps possible have been taken to insure the program's smooth start.

Eight hospitals in the 7 county area serviced by the Escanaba Social Security office with a total of 2,321 beds have been certified eligible to participate in the medicare program. They have been surveyed by the state and found to meet the standards for participation in medicare.

Blue Cross, which has been selected to receive and pay bills under the hospital insurance part of medicare, will check with the Social Security Administration and notify the hospital as to: 1—the patient's eligibility; 2—the number of hospital days he has remaining of the 90 days covered in each spell of illness; and 3—whether or not he has met the $40 deductible that is payable by the patient toward the hospital bills for each spell of illness. This check of Social Security's central records will ordinarily take no more than 48 hours.

After First $40

For older people who are in the hospital between June 30 and the end of the year, medicare will pay hospital costs over and above the first $40 of services provided July 1 or later. Costs over the $40 deductible are covered for a stay of 60 days, or less. If the older person stays in the hospital for more than 60 days, medicare will pay all but $10 a day for an additional 30 days.

All physicians have by now received their personal copies of the Physician's Reference Guide, along with copies of the Medicare Handbook that is being mailed in June to the 19.1 million people 65 and over who are covered by the medicare program.

The Physician's Reference Guide describes the benefits payable for the nation's elderly people under the hospital insurance program and the payments for doctor bills and other medical services covered under the voluntary paid program of medical insurance for which 9 out of 10 of those 65 and over have enrolled.

Physicians' Bills

Selected Blue Shield and private insurance companies will receive and pay physicians' bills under the medicare program, determining the "reasonable charges" that will be the basis of reimbursement. These organizations—33 Blue Shield plans, 15 commercial insurance companies, and one independent insurer—have hired and trained staff and have secured space and equipment.

Blue Shield has been selected to serve Michigan.

The first claims for payment under the voluntary medical insurance plan are not expected for a few days. This is because payment under the medical insurance plan does not begin until after the patient has incurred expenses of at least $50 for services provided July 1 or later.

Medicare beneficiaries will find answers to most of their questions in the green Medicare Handbooks being sent to them through the mail. However, the district office in Escanaba will be glad to explain any point that may not be clear. The Handbook tells what is and what is not covered by medicare and how the benefits will be paid.

Most people 65 and over have already received their Medicare Handbooks and their red, white, and blue health insurance identification cards. Identification cards were mailed first to those signed up for both the hospital insurance and the voluntary medical insurance.

Anyone who signed up for medicare, but has not received his identification card by the end of the 2nd week in July, should inquire at the Social Security office. If a person must go to a hospital before he has received his health insurance identification card, Williams noted, the hospital will arrange to check his eligibility.

UPCAP's Greatest Project

New Development Starting

UPCAP will get underway as soon as possible a greatly expanded program of economic development, announces Harold Dettman, of St. Ignace, chairman, and Joseph V. Tuma, executive director. This program will be made possible by the grant of $156,156 from the Economic Development Administration. The total program will cost $274,905, with UPCAP providing $118,749.

This is not the first such program for UPCAP, but it is wider in scope than any yet attempted. UPCAP at present provides assistance to counties in development planning and at the same time provides the services of an industrial development specialist who acts in a consultant capacity to business which are seeking to expand their operations. He also assists local industrial development groups in finding the means to finance new industries.

These activities will be continued under the new program and, in addition, UPCAP will assign consultants to work with small groups of counties in an intensified program of planning and assistance to communities and to local business.

U.P. Oriented Before

This feature is the heart of the new program. Hitherto, UPCAP has operated out of its Escanaba central office and given as much assistance as its staff could provide to every part of the 15 U.P. counties. It will now be able to assign men permanently to local areas in the U.P. (for example, to Chippewa, Mackinac, and Luce counties in the eastern peninsula, and Gogebic, Ontonagon, Houghton, and other western counties, which have been organized into multi-county Community Action Agency areas.)

These men will work in their local areas as local staff to county and city planning groups, and to new area-wide planning committees that will be created. Until now UPCAP has been working for the development of the U.P. as a single region. It will continue to do this, but through this system of local consultants it will also devote special efforts to develop sections of the U.P., each of which has some special problems and some special needs.

In its overall program UPCAP will continue to assist business concerns in planning and financing expansion, in establishing new concerns, and in management and marketing problems. It will also assist communities in planning for industrial development and in identifying opportunities for new business.

Office At Tech

A new element in this program will be the establishment of a special office at Michigan Tech in Houghton which will concentrate on the technical aspects of resource development and coordinate the efforts of existing agencies in finding solutions to special technical problems. UPCAP will also plan a follow-up action program for tourism and recreation development, will pursue possibilities for improvement of transportation and utilities and will maintain contact with UPCAP-sponsored projects in mining research and fisheries development.

UPCAP will contribute $118,749 to the total cost of the program. This sum will come from county cash contributions, from cash and in-kind contributions of services from private business, and from in-kind contributions of staff and technical services from the universities.

UPCAP has been working for the development of the U.P. since its foundation late in 1961. For a number of years it worked with a staff of volunteers and persons on loan from other agencies. From 1962 to 1964 it was provided by the Area Redevelopment Administration with technical assistance through Robert R. Nathan Associates, a firm of economic consultants.

In 1964 UPCAP received its first direct federal grant to carry out an action program, and for the first time it was able to acquire a permanent staff of two professionals, a director and industrial development specialist. Under this grant of approximately $50,000 a year, UPCAP carried out a program of technical assistance to the counties in development planning and at the same time asisted private businesses with their expansion problems.

U.P. Told Only Highway Hope:

More Gas Taxes Needed

If the Upper Peninsula hopes for early highway construction, it should work for an increase in the state gas tax.

This theme was played here twice this week. First by Howard Hill, director of the State Highway Department, when he attended a department opening of bids on several million dollars worth of U. P. highway construction. And again when the Michigan Good Roads Federation held a U. P. meeting at the House of Ludington on Wednesday evening to organize a U. P. campaign for highway improvement.

A representative of the Good Roads Federation, a promotional organization to which many agencies contribute, was named for each of the 15 Upper Peninsula counties to publicize the need for more money to build highways to carry's today's heavy traffic safely. Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe was named representative of Delta County in the U. P. campaign of the Federation.

Representing the Michigan Good Roads Federation at the U. P. organization meeting were: James M. Tilford, East Lansing, president; Richard W. Walker, Lansing, executvie director; and Joseph Wilbur, Lansing of the State Highway Department.

Local Bottleneck

The Rapid River - Gladstone bottleneck on US-2-41 was mentioned as one of the Peninsula's most urgent trunkline problems. It has only two lanes to carry heavy traffic on this main east-west Peninsula arterial through an urban area.

Hill explained the money pinch under which the State Highway Department is operating and said that only action by the Legislature adding a penny to the gasoline tax and increasing the automobile license tax—which was reduced and never restored—would help the U. P.'s highway situation.

The Gladstone-Rapid River project (8 miles and $10 million for a new four lane highway) has been twice deferred and now is scheduled for 1970 construction. The Highway Department deferred $27 million of highway construction this year for lack of funds and this project did not have a high enough priority to qualify for the "almost emergency" status needed to get on the "build now" list, said Hill.

The U. P. does not get special treatment in the Department's decisions on priorities; it regards the state as a whole, spends its money first where the need is greatest. "Our spending is just matching federal aid," said Hill "and we're just doing emergency work of high priority."

Michigan's highway funds come from the gasoline tax and auto license weight tax. The present gas tax is 6 cents state and 4 cents federal. One additional cent would add $28 million to highway revenues yearly and 47 per cent of it would go to the State Highway Department.

License plates at 35 cents a hundredweight bring in $75 million, and these fees and gas taxes total $250 million a year, of which the State Highway Department gets $118 million.

Michigan, said Hill, is among the lowest gas tax states, none has less than a 6 cent a gallon tax.

New Tax Plan

The Michigan Good Roads Federation is proposing a new tax and distribution formula which would add a cent to the gas tax and return to the 1933 level of 55 cents a hundredweight for auto licenses. It would levy a penny on diesel fuels and add 10 per cent to truck license fees. The new taxes would be distributed: State 46 per cent instead of 47; county road commissions, 34 per cent instead of 35; and incorporated cities and villages, 20 per cent instead of 18.

Hill said the next highway construction contract letting would be in Escanaba in September with four jobs totaling about $4.5 million to be let, plus some county secondary road work. The jobs will include: M-95 in Dickinson county, 10 miles; and $1.5 million; M-35 in Marquette County 10 miles and $2.5 million; M64 bridge in Ontonagon County, $100,000, and repair on the Whitefish River bridge in Delta County on U. S. 2.

Asked about the decision to improve M-35 in Marquette County when U. S. 2 at Rapid River was deferred, Hill said that it was not an arterial project, but a severely deteriorated highway which had to be rehabilitated before it is turned back to Marquette County in 1969 or 1970.

Police Seek Missing Dog

City police today asked the help of residents of the Escanaba area in locating a small, black dog which Wednesday severly bit a five-year-old girl.

Officers said the dog has not been seen since it bit Mary Beth Seidl, 1307 Stephenson Ave., in the upper lip and left cheek. The bite penetrated through the girl's lip.

The dog was described as being small, black with a white spot on its nose. The tail curved upwards and the hair on the dog was reported as fairly long. The dog may be of "Spitz" breed, police said.

Several animals have been checked, but none has been the right dog.

Unless the animal is found, Mary Beth will have to undergo a series of painful rabies shots.

Woman Identifies Man As Swindler From Photograph

Escanaba Police said today that a man arrested and held in Menominee Falls, Wis., has been identified by Mrs. Mary Tolman, 1412 N. 19th St., as the man who June 1 swindled her out of $2,600.

Officers said the identification was made from photographs sent to the Escanaba police department by Menominee Falls authorities.

The man has been charged with a similar offense in Menominee Falls, police said.

Mrs. Tolman, 65, withdrew $2,600 from an Escanaba bank at the request of the man, who told her she would receive a $2,000 reward if she would cooperate in catching a thief.

The man posed as a detective, she said. After giving him the money and failing to hear from him, she notified police.

Police said today that some type of warrant against the man probably would be filed with Wisconsin authorities. The money has not been recovered.

Medicare Starting

Medicare starts across the nation on Friday.

It is a historic day in both medical practice and in government.

America is following the other nations which have socialized (governmentalized) their medical services, making them a so-called "free" service to be paid for with taxes levied upon the public.

In the case of Medicare the service is a hospital service for all over 65 and a medical (doctor) service to all who subscribe to an insurance plan which the government will subsidize.

The nation's greatest venture into socialized medicine earlier was the service for veterans.

* * *

It appears that Medicare is another step in the socialization of medical services and that it will not be the last one, but that this will set up the next stage, to serve youth, or the chronically ill, or all the population. How fast the process will accelerate may depend upon the success of Medicare.

The American Medical Association, the national professional organization of our doctors of medicine and surgeons, opposed Medicare, but after years of debate Congress passed it. The recommendations of the medical profession were ignored in large part, but paradoxically the nation will count upon the medical profession to make Medicare a success.

The nation's medical establishment seems not well set up to handle the maximum rush of senior citizens that could result. Our hospitals and doctor services are operating at capacity or beyond it in most areas and to be suddenly burdened with all the elderly who need health services on a free basis could stretch the bandage too far.

* * *

Cost has, up until now, been a factor in reducing the hospital and medical load to a point where our present establishment could care for it. The humanitarians say that ability to pay should not be the judgment on whether or not a person gets needed health services and this is noble and true, but it neglects the fact that our low income people in America are the best cared for, medically, of any such class in the world. (Some exception to this statement would have to be made for Southern Negroes.)

The final test of Medicare will not be whether it stumbles a bit at first; that seems inevitable for any program so huge and so strongly politically oriented. The final test will be whether it serves the elderly better than the present system, and whether it is exorbitantly costly, using up most of the taxpayers' money for administration and not for services.

* * *

The doctors have not been able to resolve the problem of medical care of the elderly because it transcends medical practice and involves economics and other elements. Government has now undertaken to solve it, and it can do it only with the sincere help of the medical profession. It has never failed a call yet and there's no reason to believe it will be found wanting on this occasion.

Dr. James Z. Appel has asked doctors of the American Medical Association, of which he is president, to fight the issue of Medicare, if they are so inclined, in the political arena and not by denying patients care under the new law. This is in the finest traditions of American medicine, which has achieved an excellence in health services which makes Medicare possible and promising.

Outhouse Walls?

Among the western Upper Peninsula's distinctive scenic features are the many rock outcrops. Some of them are striking in their beauty—but many of them have been defaced by an obnoxious modern art form that involves inane lettering painted on the rocks.

These latter day "pictographs" usually take the form of personal names, dates or crude figures that are meaningless to all except those unthinking persons who painted them there. There is no accounting for their motivation in desecrating the landscape unless they are prompted by some sort of primitive search for immortality.

The presence of these ugly assaults upon natural beauty, however, raises the questions of prevention and cure. Perhaps there is no way of preventing these oafs from spoiling natural beauty without harsh penalties if they are apprehended.

But there must be some way to expunge their embryonic artistic efforts. Perhaps there is some chemical solvent that can erase these roadside scars. And if there is, perhaps there is some sportsmen's organization or civic group that would be happy to undertake this project.

Michigan Mirror

BY ELMER E. WHITE

Anticipated difficulty in bringing criminals to justice hopefully will be offset in Michigan by steps taken by the state police and legislature this year.

Many law enforcement officials complain that several U. S. Supreme Court decisions regarding confessions, interrogations and presentation of proof add obstacles to the already difficult job of getting evidence to convict criminals.

The first step was undertaken by the state police some months back. Efforts began to hire an attorney with police training in his background.

* * *

AIM IN this addition to state police personnel was to keep policemen current on the legal implications of U.S. and state court decisions regarding their difficult daily job.

It had already become apparent, even before the latest U. S. High Court edict, that policemen would need more familiarity with the intricacies of the law if they were to remain effective in criminal proceedings.

* * *

EARMARKED for a special computer operation, a $344,000 legislative appropriation is designed to help establish Michigan's hookup with a national communications network to exchange information on criminal activity.

Initially the computer will be set up to "remember" and distribute information about stolen cars and warrants issued in Michigan. Eventually it will provide police officers and the courts with descriptions of wanted criminals, unsolved crimes and prison records, all on very short notice.

One side benefit expected to be opened by use of the computer is that it will lessen the paperwork required of law enforcement officers, thus potentially freeing more men for the important work of prevention, detection and enforcement.

It's Loaded!

Record Refutes Claim

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Some Negro militants are arguing these days that American foreign policy is basically geared to the defense of the white nations against the interests of a predominantly nonwhite world.

Certain leaders of CORE and the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNICK) appear particularly attached to this theory.

Obviously, the idea takes them well beyond specific criticism of our participation in the Viet Nam war, though that fits in. Stokely Carmichael of SNICK calls U. S. operations in Viet Nam a "war against colored people."

* * *

The general proposition that we are pursuing some sort of segregationist foreign policy ought to be examined.

First, if we are doing this, it seems to be singularly unappealing to some of the white nations we are supposed to be saving from the black man and the yellow man.

France disapproves of our Viet Nam policies. Though Britain supports us, powerful dissident elements speak out. Many other Western lands voice doubts of one sort or another. Hundreds of millions of white people living under communism hardly seem in support of our "white foreign policy."

It can be stated with fresh authority that a high proportion of the leadership in newly independent black African nations does not see U. S. policy as "anticolored," no matter how seriously they may disagree with it on many counts.

Sources in touch with some of these leaders say this is an aspect of American policy which seldom if ever occurs to them.

* * *

As for Asia, countries like the Philippines, Thailand, Malaysia, even allegedly neutral Laos, see us not as enemies but as friends and allies. We are the defenders of the millions of Koreans, island Chinese and Vietnamese who do not want to live under communism.

Neutral India and Burma and demobilized Japan see our role in Asia in a less friendly light. Yet all would turn inevitably to us and any supporting white and colored allies we could muster if their borders were seriously breached by foreign assault.

Only India, exhibiting a curious self-deception, likes to pretend that this would not be so.

* * *

The foreign policy some CORE and SNICK leaders say is "anticolored" has drawn the United States into war on Asian soil twice since World War II—in Korea and Viet Nam. In both instances, the initiators were Asiatic Communists bent on conquest of fellow Asiatics.

We have undertaken no combat against black African nations.

In the course of the present war, as in Korea, we are killing many Asiatic people. But so, in large number, are the Asiatic aggressors.

* * *

It is useful, in fact, to note what nonwhites have been doing to nonwhites in the last few decades.

In World War II, the Japanese killed or wounded more than 3 million Chinese, plus untold numbers of Southeast Asians. In Korea, Communist forces killed 45,000 South Koreans in combat and accounted for a good proportion of the 400,000 civilian dead. Their reward was to see 4 million North Koreans, half the country's population, flee to South Korea. We, standing at the border, are their guardians.

In the first Indochina war, begun by North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh, 250,000 Vietnamese civilians died along with thousands of anti-Red soldiers. Then there is the recent incredible horror which saw Indonesians massacre perhaps as many as 500,000 Indonesians and Chinese in less than four months.

We may have much to learn and much more to do if we are to understand and give effective help to Asians, Africans and other nonwhite peoples. But it would hardly seem, from history's record, that it is we who hold their lives and their interests cheaply.

Bell Successor A Hard Worker

WASHINGTON (AP) — William S. Gaud, nominated by President Johnson to head the nation's massive foreign aid program, works 11-hour days and brings home reading at night. He also skippers a 32-foot sailboat named Content.

"I spend all the weekends I can on her," Gaud said in an interview.

Gaud's weekends may start getting shorter after July 31, the day he is scheduled to replace David E. Bell as administrator of the Agency for International Development.

President Johnson announced Bell's resignation Tuesday and coupled it with the nomination of Gaud, who has been deputy administrator of AID since 1964.

Bell is to become vice president of the Ford Foundation in charge of international activities. He said he was resigning for personal reasons and not because of any dispute with the administration. "I am bushed and I am broke, but I am not mad at anyone," he told a newsman. He said he was delighted with the appointment of Gaud as his successor.

Gaud, 58, an affable Yale graduate who joined the agency as assistant administrator in 1961, said he plans no policy changes.

"I'll follow the same policies," he said. "We're on the right track."

Proxy Vote Out

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has ruled that proxy voting by members of the State Wage Deviation Board would be invalid. Kelley said there is no statutory provision which would authorize any delegation of powers by members of the board. The board passes on any deviation from pay standards set under the minimum wage law.

The Doctor Says:

Tips On Fishing Accidents

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

It is again time to take your fishing tackle out of moth balls. Whether you drop a line off a bridge, wade through racing rapids or track down your prey in some kind of a boat, you have chosen a sport that gets you out of doors and provides time for quiet reflection.

The most common fishing accident is snagging a finger or some other part of your body on a barbed hook. This may occur while you are trying to bait a hook when you are sitting in a rocking boat or when reaching for a lure in a box full of tackle. Many such accidents can be prevented by keeping a small cork over all barbs that are not in use. Casting is potentially dangerous to your fellow fisherman. Some of the hazard is removed from this practice by using an overhead motion rather than a sidearm motion. If you prefer the latter you should move to a safe distance from your companions.

In removing the hook from a fish you should hold the fish firmly under the gills so that its head can't flop or wiggle. If the hook has caught you instead of a fish don't try to pull it out. The hook must be pushed forward until it emerges from your flesh then snipped off with a wire cutter. Your doctor is equipped to do this and give you antibiotics and a tetanus toxoid booster to prevent infection.

If you are fishing from a boat be sure to have life belts available. Don't overload the boat and be sure to heed radio warnings of an approaching storm. When your boat is in motion keep a watchful eye out for other boats, swimmers and submerged rocks.

Sunburn is another hazard you must make every effort to prevent. Carry insect repellent and a first-aid kit with you.

Q—WHAT causes hemorrhoids? What makes them itch? Can they become cancerous?

A—Hemorrhoids or piles are a form of varicose vein located at the outlet of the bowel. The cause may be pro-congenital weakness of the tissues surrounding the veins of the rectum or pregnancy. Irritation of any tissue at a level below that of true pain may cause itching. Piles may itch when there is a slight break in the overlying mucous membrane or when the stool is highly acid. Piles do not increase the danger of cancer of the rectum but the two conditions may coexist.

"Quotes"

While every man's house cannot be a castle, it need not be a hovel.
—President Johnson, on the rent-subsidy bill.

Coed Editor Is Carrying Appeal To High Court

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Annette Buchanan's fight against being forced to reveal confidential news sources will go to the Oregon Supreme Court.

The 20-year-old student editor was fined $300 in State Circuit Court Tuesday for refusing to identify seven marijuana smokers she interviewed for a story in the University of Oregon newspaper last month.

Her attorney, Arthur Johnson, said that William Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Tribune and former Republican senator from California, had sent $300 for either the fine or legal expenses.

Judge Edward Leavy said her rebuff of a court order to name the sources was contempt of court. He gave her the maximum fine, but did not impose a possible six-month jail term.

Ann Landers

Cat Will Come Down By Himself

Dear Ann Landers: I stared in disbelief at your reply to the man who helped the little girl in the men's room of the church recently. To refresh your memory: A little girl about 4 years old wandered into the men's bathroom and pleaded, "I have to go. Please help me."

The man did help the little lady in distress and then, as he was leading her out, one of the other men berated him for having taken such a chance. "We all could have been arrested on a phony molesting charge," he said. "Don't make such a stupid mistake again."

The gallant gentleman wrote to ask you if the guy was right. When you backed him up I almost dropped my eyeglasses in the coffee.

I am no Philadelphia lawyer but it seems to me that if a man of good intentions and good character can be arrested on a molesting charge for assisting a child in a church restroom, then some of our laws need changing.

It's a good thing you aren't a ballplayer, Ann. You'd be riding the bench for that one. — DULUTH DUKE

Dear Duke: When you said some of our laws need changing you weren't just clickin' your molars, Dad. If you knew how many innocent people have spent fortunes defending themselves against phony charges, you'd drop a lot more than your glasses.

I've said it before and I'll say it again, if a little girl wanders into a men's room and you happen to be in there, skip the Good Samaritan act and get her out of there — and fast. You may be a sterling character of fine reputation but some trouble-making So-and-So could muddy you up so fast your head would swim.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: Two days ago our cat, Tuesday, ran up a tree and stationed himself on a branch about 15 feet from the ground. The tree is on a steep, rocky hill, which means it would not be easy to use a ladder there.

The night Tuesday ran up the tree we called the animal rescue league. They said they were very busy and shorthanded but that they would try to send a man in a day or so if they possibly could find somebody.

This morning I called the league again and they said someone had been out — last night. The man they sent decided the tree was in a very dangerous spot and that he was not going to risk his life trying to get the cat down. He left without even ringing our doorbell to tell us of his decision.

I asked the man on the phone what we should do. He replied, "Wait a few days and the cat will come down by himself." He didn't say whether the cat would be dead or alive.

I think it is just horrible that people call themselves rescuers of animals and then refuse to help an animal in distress. Please print my letter and your comments. — UP A TREE.

Dear Up: By the time you read this reply Tuesday will have come down — alive.

I am told by a woman who works with the Anti-Cruelty League of Chicago that in her 18 years of experience she has never heard of a treed cat that didn't come down on his own—eventually.

Your sweeping accusation that animal rescue people do not bother themselves to rescue animals is unjust. I have heard and read about many who have gone to extraordinary limits to save animals. (Your apologies are accepted.)

Bottled Milk All Grade A

Michigan's bottled milk all becomes "Grade A" on July 1, and simultaneously became subject to the nation's most advanced milk sanitation procedures.

Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture credited the foresight of the 1965 Michigan Legislature for their prompt action to adopt the 1965 edition of the U. S. Public Health Service Grade A Pasteurized Milk Ordinance—the first such action by any state.

Under the state's new milk law, inspectors of the Dairy Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture have the responsibility for insuring that, for the first time in Michigan history, all bottled milk is "Grade A." Its entire production, from pasture to delivery truck, is subject to scientific inspection of the department's staff of specialists.

While Michigan became first to adopt the USPHS 1965 Grade A Milk Ordinance through specific legislative action 37 other states have adopted earlier versions of the code. Nearly two-thirds of the entire United States population now have a milk supply insured wholesome through this model milk measure.

To Rededicate 1st Tree Farm

The first step to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the American Tree Farm System was taken this week by the Michigan Tree Farm Committee.

Robert E. Schmeling, committee chairman and woodlands manager for Mead Corp., named the following Task Force to develop plans for the rededication of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. Tree Farm—the state's first certified Tree Farm—in mid-September:

David West, chairman, Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., Ishpeming; Joseph Schernick, American Can Co., Menominee; Robert McCraney, Kimberly-Clark Corp., Newberry; M. F. Fox, Abbott Fox Lumber Co., Iron Mountain; Robert Radcliffe, Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., Munising; Dr. Eric Bourdo, Ford Forestry Center, L'Anse; Roy Skog, Cooperative Extension Service, Marquette; William Henricksen, Cliffs Dow Chemical Co., Marquette; Sherwood Trotter, U. S. Forest Service, Escanaba; Ernest Hall, Department of Conseravtion, Marquette; and Gilbert W. Zieman, American Forest Products Industries, Inc., Green Bay.

The Michigan Tree Farm Program is affiliated with the national Tree Farm movement which got its start in Washington in 1941. The program is active in 48 states and currently lists nearly 30,000 certified Tree Farms, consisting of more than 67 million acres of privately-owned, taxpaying forest land under proper management.

Tree farming came to Michigan in 1949. Since then the Michigan Tree Farm Committee has certified 1,074 Tree Farms, embracing 1,433,458 acres of commercial forest land.

The Task Force will convene in Ishpeming on Thursday, July 7, to formulate plans to rededicate the large industrial forest at a site near Munising. It is expected that the program will include the recognition of the 18 charter members of the Michigan Tree Farm Program and newly certified tree farmers.

A Tree Farm is a private tract of timberland dedicated by its owner to the growing and harvesting of repeated tree crops.

Inflation Hurts Farms

Bureau Blaming Govt.'s Policies

The current effort to saddle farm prices with the responsibility for the inflationary trend in our economy is a smoke screen, designed to divert attention away from the real causes of inflation, Henry Hughes of Route 1 Gladstone told directors of the Delta County Farm Bureau meeting June 27 at the Llewellyn Larson home.

"While government has been pushing up farm production costs with its inflationary policies, it has moved to beat down farm prices in the market through actions of executive agencies," Hughes said. "These include: dumping of government-held grain stocks on the market to break prices; imposition of restrictions on cattle hide exports which failed to halt a rise in shoe prices; an increase in the import quota for cheese to curb dairy prices; a 50 per cent reduction in pork purchases for the Army.

"If these national acts seem a little far off, one should consider that two of the most important Michigan agricultural products are milk and meat, in that order. In 1965, Michigan farmers sold over $200 million worth of milk and nearly $150 million worth of red meat. Any move by the administration to restrict the free play of the market in these two areas cost Michigan farmers millions of dollars in a few weeks."

Meanwhile, deficit government spending is a major cause of inflation, Bureau President Hughes said. Government spending, he said, has risen from $76.5 billion in fiscal 1960 to an official estimate of $112.5 billion for fiscal 1967.

"The budget has been unbalanced each year since 1960, and the annual deficit has been as high as $8.2 billion," Hughes said.

"Far from being the cause of inflation, farmers have been one of its chief victims. Farmers have been hit hard by rising prices of manufactured products. Farm production costs have increased $4.1 billion since 1960.

Typhoon Kit's Death Toll, 52

TOKYO (AP)— Typhoon Kit blew itself out over the Pacific Ocean after its fringe hit the Tokyo area and left at least 52 dead, 12 missing and 89 injured.

The high winds and torrential rains that lashed Tokyo and nine surrounding states Tuesday night also destroyed 256 houses, flooded another 107,000 and much farmland. Many roads were washed away or blocked by landslides.

The typhoon disrupted rail service, including the 300-mile Tokyo-Osaka line, for almost 12 hours.

A 15-foot landslide destroyed a women's dormitory, killing five female employes of a bus company at Isogo, Yokahama. Five coal miners were buried alive in Hanno when a landslide crashed a shack in which they sought shelter.

Tokyo's subway, which carried more than two million passengers daily, was knocked out for hours by floods, forcing thousands of commuters to sleep on the concrete floor of Tokyo's central railroad station.

Ferris Honors Three Deltans

BIG RAPIDS—Three residents of Delta County were among the 270 Ferris State College alumni who were inducted into the college's Society of the Golden Eagles at the annual alumni reunion recently. Golden Eagles are alumni who attended the college at least 50 or more years ago. Those inducted were George Hirn, Commerce 1912, Escanaba; Elmer Klassell, Commerce 1916, Escanaba; and Gertrude Grandchamp, Commerce 1916, Rapid River.

Delta Nurses Told $6,000 Is Pay Base Goal

Delta District Nurses Association meeting last night at Bay de Noc Community College heard Miss Elizabeth Nelson, of Gladstone, a delegate to the American Nurses Association convention in San Francisco June 14-17 on highlights of the convention.

Delegates numbered 1,065, including 40 from Michigan with three from the Upper Peninsula. They were Esther Kivisto, Marquette, Marianne Langexberg, Crystal Falls and Miss Nelson.

Kaplan Keynoter

Dr. Abraham Kaplan, University of Michigan, said "The most precious gift any human being can give another is himself. But one can only give himself if there is something there to give." Dr. Kaplan said that nurses must "redefine and consider their responsibilities. If 50 per cent of you try to do the job of 100 per cent and give 70 per cent of the necessary service, you will soon find that other women won't enter your profession."

For the first time in the history of nursing, the nurses national organization has supported a national salary goal of $6,500 for any professional nurse entering the profession in 1966.

Lack Nurses

The profession is currently lacking 50,000 nurses to fill full time positions now vacant. The knowledge and skill required by today's nurses are many times greater than in the past and a better schooling in the sciences and humanities is required. No occupation of comparable responsibility is as poorly compensated and many occupations requiring equal or less preparation are better paid, the ANA was told.

Michigan was prominent at the convention as Miss Katharine E. Faville, dean of Wayne State University's College of Nursing was given the Mary Mahoney Award for long and continuing efforts to open opportunities in nursing for Negroes. Luther Christian, associate professor at the School of Nursing, University of Michigan, was named third vice-president. Jo-Eleanor Ellist of Boulder, Colo., formerly from Michigan, was re-elected ANA president.

Chicago Port Is Deep Water

CHICAGO — Chicago becomes a "deep-water" seaport today. Actually Chicago becomes the nation's largest inland port capable of direct overseas shipment by water.

When a dredge removes a bucketful of earth from the Calumet River channel into Lake Calumet Harbor, the seaport of Chicago will be served by a 27-foot-deep, 200-foot-wide channel. The river's former 21-foot depth prohibited access to the port's many public and private dock facilities by fully-loaded deep-draft vessels drawing 25½ feet of water.

Full utilization of the St. Lawrence Seaway into Chicago by salt water ships of the 25,000 -ton class and the full use of the port by large Great Lakes freighters now will be possible.

For the first time, Chicago's nine export grain elevators, which have a storage capacity of 60 million bushels, can load grain aboard the largest ships which can transit the St. Lawrence Seaway for direct transport over the world, to St. Lawrence River ports and also to lake ports.

Since 1959, when the Seaway was opened, shipments of grain, other agricultural commodities and products were "light loaded" on ships so they would clear the old 21-foot port depth. Despite this holdback, grain shipments alone from Chicago increased from around 15 million bushels in pre-seaway 1958 to over 91 million bushels in 1965.

"As grain is the backbone of commerce, this improvement in Chicago's harbor and Calumet River will prove enormously beneficial to the economy of the entire area, and especially Chicago. Taking the channel to Seaway depth opens a new era for agriculture in Illinois and other states which move food and fiber by ship through Chicago," Lessing commented.

Work on the Calumet Harbor project has entailed $15 million of federal funds and was begun in 1962.

POWDERHORN slung on his shoulder, Ron Vanderberg demonstrates his favorite shooting position for firing a muzzle-loading rifle he made.. Vanderberg, who has nine years to serve before retiring from the U.S. Navy, hopes to return to Gladstone to set up a muzzle loading shop and get "black powder" shooting started in the area. (Daily Press Photo)

Gladstone Man Builds Muzzle Loading Musket

By DAVE ANDREWS

Ron Vanderberg came back to Gladstone the other day with a dream and a muzzle loading rifle.

The rifle is the basis for his dream. He made it himself.

"When I retire from the Navy, I'd like to set up my own muzzle loading business," he said. "I want to come back to Gladstone and set up a small shop and build muzzle loaders."

A 1955 graduate of Gladstone High School, Vanderberg, 29, is a Navy jet engine mechanic full-time. In his spare time he is a budding gunsmith with a pioneering spirit for pioneer-vintage guns.

Holding his hand-crafted rifle with powderhorn slung over his shoulder, Vanderberg needs only a coonskin cap to bring back the days of Daniel Boone.

The rifle is a .38 musket of design like those the first Americans used to fight the Indians and the British.

"Bill Sundling of Gladstone gave me the barrel," Vanderberg said. "The rest of the gun I made myself with the exception of the lock plate and trigger guard.

"The fun comes, of course, in being able to go out and shoot it. It's got a sound unlike any gun you've ever heard."

For the modern generation, a muzzle loader loads down the barrel instead of placing a pre-made shell in the chamber. A measured quantity of black powder is poured down the barrel from the powderhorn. Then, a small piece of cloth called a patch is placed on the end of the barrel and the lead bullet is centered on the patch.

A ramrod forces the patch and bullet down the barrel and "seats" it atop the powder. The gun is ready to fire when Vanderberg places a percussion cap in the trigger mechanism.

The hammer of the gun is cocked and when the trigger is pulled the hammer strikes the percussion cap, which acts to detonate the black powder charge.

"The shooter hears only one noise," Vanderberg explained, "but someone off in the woods would hear two sounds — the percussion cap and the powder charge going off."

Vanderberg got interested in "black powder shooting" and muzzle loading guns while stationed with the Navy in Florida. A Naval buddy got him started.

His first muzzle-loader was a converted shotgun. He also made a couple of pistols before tackling the rifle project. Next up is a Kentucky Long Gun.

"As a hobby, this has got a little of everything — woodworking, staining, finishing, metal working, designing and inlaying wood," he smiled.

"I carved the stock for this gun myself from a piece of maple plank."

The brass shoulder fittings he drew and cut himself from a picture in a magazine. The silver inlay was another story. Vanderberg explained he used dental amalgum, tapped into a design he cut himself with a high-speed drill. Jewelers rouge was used to polish it

Firing the gun, he says, costs him about a penny a shot.

"The one advantage a muzzle loader has over a conventional gun is that you can vary the powder charge to your needs," Vanderberg explained.

"You can put just enough in to knock out a squirrel, or you can load enough to blow his brains out. I plan to use this gun for squirrel and rabbit hunting this fall."

Vanderberg is stationed at the Naval Air Station in Minneapolis, Minn. He hopes to get reassigned this fall to Seltridge Air Force Base, Mount Clemens, Mich., when transfer of a Navy unit to the base is completed.

Married to the daughter of a Florida contractor, Shirley, he has four children, Wade, 8, Clint, 7, Susan, 2 and John, 7 months. His wife, he says,is behind him 100 per cent on his muzzle loading dream.

One reason, aside from being his home, that Vanderberg says he would like to come back to Gladstone is that he believes the community has the potential to develop a muzzle-loading manufacturing industry with Marble Arms, Inc., building barrel and other parts and LaPine Bros. making stocks. As an outdoorsman, he also loves the Upper Peninsula.

"I'd like to introduce black powder shooting to this area," he said. "I'd be more than happy now to help organize a club. If there isn't one going when I come back, that's one of the first things I'll try to do."

Vanderberg has been in the Navy 11 years.

This trip to Gladstone he is only visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vanderberg, 1016 Delta Ave.

Nine years from now, if all goes well, maybe he'll be back for good — black powder and all.

Raymond L. Elton, Ithaca, Mich., was ticketed by State Police Wednesday for improper parking along a highway.

Legislators' Pay Raise Includes State Auto Use

LANSING (AP) — Legislators probably will be given state cars to drive next year.

It is one of the benefits tucked away in the recently approved legislative pay raise bill now awaiting action by Gov. George Romney.

Sen Garland Lane, D-Flint, chairman of the Appropriations Committee and author of the bill, said that language in the bill will allow putting a state car at the disposal of each legislator.

The pay raise bill strikes a provision granting lawmakers 10 cents per mile for two round trips between their homes and Lansing each month the Legislature is in session.

The provision is replaced with a passage that says "the compensation, mileage and expense allowance shall be paid out of appropriations made for the expenses of the Legislature, in accordance with the accounting laws of the state and as provided in the joint rules of the House and Senate."

While it does not specify the use of an automobile, legal opinion is that the language is broad enough to permit lawmakers to take cars out of the state motor poool.

"I've been using a car from the pool for about five months now as a test," said Lane, whose committee work involves much travel. "According to my figures, I have saved the state $21.04 over what I would have charged them if I had used my own car and charged the mileage."

According to Lane's present plans, members of one or both Houses would be entitled to take cars out of the motor pool. The Legislature would pay the pool six cents per mile.

Legislators using state cars would not draw the 10-cents-a-mile allowance.

Surveyor I Still Remains Inactive

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists failed a second time Wednesday night to awaken America's lunar photographer, Surveyor 1, after the frigid, two-week lunar night.

A Jet Propulsion Laboratory spokesman said another attempt would be made tonight to reactivate the picture-taking craft.

If those efforts fail, the spokesman said, JPL will discontinue efforts until July 9 — two days after the lunar noon — when the sun will focus directly on Surveyor's solar panels.

Summer Studies

LANSING (AP) — The State Education Department reports more than 300,000 young people are attending summer school sessions this year, about twice as many as any previous year.

Committee Will Work Over Tire Standards Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee, making slow progress on auto safety legislation, tackles today a proposal to strengthen a Senate-passed bill requiring uniform tire standards.

Amendments before the committee would require manufacturers to show clearly on the tire how much weight it is expected to carry and how many plys it contains.

The committee also has to decide whether to incorporate the tire provision in its comprehensive auto safety measure or keep it in a separate bill as did the Senate. The Senate measure, approved in March, would direct the secretary of commerce to issue standards within two years.

Committee proponents of tough auto safety legislation continue to express confidence despite votes by the group this week against adopting the Senate bill and against specific language that would bring trucks under provisions calling for establishment of new car safety standards.

Last Night Sad In Hotel Astor

NEW YORK (AP) — The Hotel Astor, which has stood along gaudy Times Square like a maiden aunt for nearly 62 years, calls it quits today.

This morning her last 150 guests will check out, the 450 employes will leave their jobs, and the wrecking crew will take over. The Astor, a Broadway landmark, is coming down to make way for a 40-story office building.

"It's sad. Any passing is sad," said Erwin O. Schel, the hotel's general manager.

Henry Pottberg, the assistant bell captain, looked across the red-carpeted lobby and said, "The Astor's just out of this world. It's been like a second home to me. I've spent half of my life here."

For years the Astor was home to presidents and show business people. Every president since 1933 has stayed at the hotel, and once, according to a favorite Astor legend, a man went to sleep thinking he was president —and woke up a loser.

He was Charles Evans Hughes, who bedded down in the presidential suite in 1916 after hearing the favorable early returns.

Ike Says Necessity

From his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower issued a statement supporting President Johnson's decision to hit the oil depots. He said the President advised him of his decision before the action was taken.

Eisenhower said the decision "was in my opinion, a military necessity and I support it." He added, "It will help minimize casualties and loss of life among our allies and America's fighting men in Viet Nam."

Fireworks Rocket Hurts 11 People At Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—An aerial rocket fired as part of a downtown pre-Fourth of July display Wednesday night plunged into a crowd of onlookers, injuring 11 persons.

Police said one man was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital for treatment of severe cuts. The others were treated for minor cuts and abrasions and released.

Capt. Robert Jager of the Grand Rapids Police Department said the accident was being investigated.

Jager said the display was sponsored by the city's Chamber of Commerce and began at 11:10 p.m. Three minutes later, he said, the rocket fell into the crowd about 200 feet from where it had been fired.

Delta Dairyman Declares:

Affluence Not For Farmer

A leading Delta County farmer's view of the American dairy farmer's relationship to the national economy and government policies is given in the following article on "Food and Inflation" by Frank Falkeis, Cornell dairy and potato farmer, who is a member of both Michigan Producers Association and Michigan Farm Bureau.

By FRANK FALKEIS

The administration is moving steadily ahead in it's misdirected efforts to halt the rise in living cost by depressing farm prices. Now they have gone as far to take the bacon, ham, and the chops as well as butter from our boys in the services. This move to reduce was ordered not because of motive of the economy but rather as a part of the administration's drive to lower farm prices.

Hog prices to the farmer already dropped 25 to 30 per cent since the first of the year, and pork imports to this country increased by 20 per cent. This action by the administration was unnecessary and was only aimed at lowering farm prices even more. On March 25 the Defense Department ordered a reduction of a million pounds per month in butter purchased for the armed services.

The retail price of food has increased during the past year and the cost of living went up more than in any recent year. The reason that the cost of living hadn't increased more before was because lower farm prices absorbed most of the increase in handling. This went to a point where thousands of farmers could not make ends meet and had to quit producing. In 1965 twelve dairy farmers in Wisconsin went out of business every day. They were unable to make a fair living for their families.

10 Year Trends

Let's take a look at the real story for a 10 year period ending Feb. 28, 1965. All statistics are national and are from the U.S. Department of Labor and based on the period from 1957 to 1959 equaling 100 per cent.

Cost of Living Index up 11.6 per cent.

Cost of services and housing up 20 per cent.

Cost of medical and health services up 25 per cent.

Cost of recreation up 16 per cent.

Cost of food (96 foods at retail) up 00.4 per cent.

Cost of ½ gallon of milk retail up 2.6 per cent.

Cost of 1 pound of butter retail up 6.7 per cent.

Cost of 1 pound cheese retail up 20 per cent.

Prices paid by farmers up 17 per cent.

Percent of income spent for food down 5.7 per cent.

This record is available for all, including the President, who are fair and honest enough to look.

In May of 1947 I went into the farming business. I received $4.72 for a hundred pounds of milk, this was Grade B or cheese milk. I paid 17 cents a hundred to haul my milk, so it left me $4.55 net for my milk.

In March of this year I received $4.60 a hundred for Grade A milk. I had to invest $3,000 for cooling and other equipment to produce this Grade A milk. My hauling was 33 cents, 6 cents dues, 2 cents advertisement for a total of 41 cents to be deducted from $4.60.

This leaves me with a net of $4.19, which is 36 cents a hundred less for Grade A milk in 1966 as compared to Grade B milk in 1947. Now why have so many farmers sold out? They could see the hand writing on the wall. Of 3.4 million farmers in the United States only 468,000 have incomes comparable to city labor. This leaves 3 million farm families that do not make a fair wage. Dairy farmers in Wisconsin produced 7 per cent less milk in April of 1966 as compared in April of 1965.

We're At War

We are also in a war; wages and personal income are being pushed up by high level employment business profits, and government action. Most critical of all, the government is on the largest non-defense spending spree in history. A local lumber dealer a few days ago told me that lumber would be up $25 a thousand this summer, because the government has bought most of the lumber on the West Coast and is shipping it to Viet Nam to build docks and warehousing for supplies for the military. That is a 30 per cent rise in price.

Recent actions make it apparent to farmers that the Department of Agriculture is no longer looking out for the interest of American farmers as the Department of Labor for labor. For the first time in history Secretary Freeman has expressed pleasure because of lower farm prices.

With President Johnson it is cool politics. The inflation bug was biting him hard. He needed a whipping boy with emotional appeal to the masses and he counted noses and saw no political pay dirt in farmers. Unfair as it is, it adds up to dirty politics. It seems quite clear that the farmer who has been struggling with depressed prices for years can expect no help from this administration when the secretary of agriculture, who is supposed to represent the farmer to the President, expresses pleasure when already low farm prices get even lower. The message should be loud and clear to all of us: we must fight back, at the polling place, in legislative halls and in the market place through aggressive and united effort.

Spending Bills Pass In House

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature cleared the last of the $974.4 million 1966-67 state budget Wednesday—just 30 hours before the start of the new fiscal year.

Lawmakers then adjourned until Aug. 22, when they will put the finishing touches to a session described by Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel D-Detroit, as "standing out like the Washington Monument in comparison with legislatures of the past."

Two local issues, a road to an Upper Peninsula mine and a park on the shores of southern Lake Michigan, had snagged the last two spending bills for the coming year—the $71 million capital outlay bill and the $315 million restricted fund measure.

The restricted fund bill is not part of the $974.4 million general fund spending plan, but the capital outlay appropriation is.

A four-hour House Democratic caucus had pried loose enough votes to pass the capital outlay bill (containing the park authorization) and the restricted fund bill (containing the road improvements) just as the Senate wanted them.

The capital outlay bill allocates $500,000 to enable the State Conservation Department to acquire some 1,200 acres of lake frontage and sand dunes near Benton Harbor for the proposed Grand Mere State Park.

The restricted funds bill contains authorization to spend $1.4 million over three years to improve a 14-mile road leading to a mine owned by the White Pine Copper Co. in Ontonagon County.

Castro Charges Cuban Athletes Were Pressured

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro charged Wednesday night that Cuban athletes were subjected to pressure, threats and bribes at the Central American and Caribbean games in San Juan. He accused the United States of mixing politics and sports.

Making his first public appearance since early June at a reception for athletes who took part in the games, Castro charged that some American judges at the competition were "probably CIA agents."

Castro made no reference to speculation abroad that he had been out of the country or ill.

However, Education Minister Jose Llanusa said the athletes had heard in Puerto Rico that Castro was in Czechoslovakia or ill, but as their boat approached Cuba, "there he was piloting a launch to meet us." Llanusa led the Cuban delegation to the games.

Congress Has Holiday Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will return from its prolonged July 4th holiday with more tough problems ahead of it than behind it.

The House calls it quits after a perfunctory session today. The Senate may hold a brief session Friday.

When the two branches return to work on July 11, their decisions on some knotty issues well may be influenced by what the members find out back home during the recess.

The target date for final adjournment — barring unexpected developments — is early October, one month before the general elections in which all 435 House seats and 35 Senate seats will be filled.

Between now and then Congress must decide what to do about the foreign aid program, civil rights, the war on poverty, urban development in a selected group of demonstration cities, automobile safety, minimum wages, unemployment compensation, food for freedom, creation of a department of transportation, pay raises for federal employes and a batch of bills involving more than $100 billion in appropriations.

Pig Crop Is Up

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's spring pig crop was 459,000 pigs, up 6 per cent from 1965, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service says.

Lieutenants!

GRAYLING (AP) — Thirty-five cadet trainees will receive commissions as second lieutenants in the Michigan National Guard in exercises at Camp Grayling Friday. Maurice Anding of Cadillac will be honored as the "outstanding cadet" and Robert August of Detroit will receive a special leadership award.

Trust Busting On New Ground

LANSING (AP) — An $820,000 trust established by a Lansing man who died in 1964 and his widow's efforts to gain some of the funds in the trust have set eight lawyers to work on some brand new legal issues.

The trust agreement of Herbert Halstead, established in 1948, provided that when he died, the trust would be liquidated and the money given to various charities and friends.

His widow, Hazel Halstead, 76, contends in Ingham County Circuit Court that this deprived her of her legal 50 per cent share of her husband's total worth. Halstead's total worth was estimated at nearly $1 million.

Lawyers for both sides say there is no precedent in Michigan law covering points at issue in the case.

Defendants in the civil case before Judge Sam Hughes are the trust beneficiaries, including several Lansing-area hospitals.

To Challenge NFL, AFL For Players

New Pro Football League Has Leahy As Head Man

CHICAGO (AP) — A new pro football league, with a pooled $24 million in its kicker to outbid the National and American leagues for player talent this fall, has been announced by Frank Leahy, the former Notre Dame coach.

It is a unique corporation program consisting of 12 franchises in metropolitan centers with Anaheim, Calif., and its new stadium, the only member so far identified.

Bruce Erlhof of Santa Ana, Calif., an attorney who was named executive vice-president of the corporation known as the United States Football League, said that the $24 million in cash and credits includes the price of franchises along with the packaged amount to be spent "to get the players we want."

Leahy, who will serve as chairman of the board with broad powers, was emphatic at a news conference Wednesday that "we are willing and adequately prepared to spend money for outstanding players — and can go to half a million dollars to get any one of them."

The recently announced merger of the National Football League and American Football League leading to one league by 1970 touched off the USFL.

Leahy and Werlhof indicated that if the two established leagues think they now have few problems in what was a spiraling big-money war of signings, they might have another thought coming.

"We will have a common player draft based on a central scouting system as soon as the regular intercollegiate football season is completed in November and will be ready to start business in the fall of 1967," said Leahy.

"I know our draft will be a couple of months before that of the NFL and AFL, who have announced theirs for January. But I surmise that they now will change their plans.

"I think the AFL and NFL people are too sportsminded to try to circumvent our emergence as a new league. They have no reason to do so and I don't see how they could, anyway."

The first six franchises will be announced July 20, the next three Aug. 15 and the last three Sept. 1. "Four or five applicants have either an NFL or AFL team in their cities," said Leahy. "Frankly, we are staggering the announcement of our sites to spread out the publicity value." Among cities in the rumor hopper are Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia, Memphis, New Orleans, Seattle, Phoenix, Cincinnati.

There was no comment from any NFL or AFL official in New York.

Five Right Fielders Start For All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Five right fielders will start the 1966 All-Star baseball game July 12 at St. Louis.

Frank Robinson of Baltimore, Tony Oliva of Minnesota, Al Kaline of Detroit, Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh all have been voted into the opening line-up.

The new rules established by Commissioner William D. Eckert provide for a general vote on outfielders instead of a ballot for specific positions as in the past.

Consequently, the entire American League outfield will be made up of men who normally play right although both Oliva and Kaline have played center for stretches.

Willie Mays will be the National League center fielder for the 13th time. He will be flanked by Aaron and Clemente, who normally are right fielders although Aaron does shift to left in some parks.

Robinson, a star with Cincinnati in the National League before he was traded to Baltimore last winter, becomes the third man to make the grade in both leagues. The others were pitchers Jim Bunning and Schoolboy Rowe, both of whom were American League All-Star picks at Detroit and later at Philadelphia in the National.

As usual, the starters must play at least the first three innings with the exception of the pitchers. The catchers will be announced Sunday and the pitchers and remainder of the 25-man squads later next week.

The infields, released Tuesday, had Willie McCovey of San Francisco at first, Joe Morgan of Houston at second, Leo Cardenas of Cincinnati at short and Ron Santo of Chicago at third for the National League. However, Morgan and Santo may be replaced because of injuries.

The American League infield had rookie George Scott of Boston at first, Bobby Knoop of the California Angeles at second, Dick McAuliffe of Detroit at short and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore at third.

The only repeaters of the eight named so far on each side are infielders Robinson and McAuliffe of the American and outfielders Aaron and Mays of the National.

Standings on the first four races: Bill Boyce 27½, Ken Anderson 27 and Paul Bissell 26½.

Kalamazoo Gals In Net Finals

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)— The girls tennis team from Kalamazoo, Mich., today enters the fourth round of the All-Girl National City Tennis Tournament here, still in the lead after defeating the defending champs.

Kalamazoo held its lead with 25 points by winning five of nine matches Wednesday against defending champion Middletown, Ohio.

But Kalamazoo faces a threat from the Chicago girls, who took second place from Middletown, by sweeping their nine matches Wednesday.

Charleston and Middletown are tied for third with 17 points each. Baltimore is fifth with eight and Louisville, Ky., sixth with two.

Top performer of the tournament continued to be Middletown's Connie Capozzi — last year's national 14 and under champion — who solidified her position with a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Kalamazoo's No. 1 player, Carol Hunter.

Brunet Extends String Against Detroit Tigers

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — If you figured it by the series, the score would be Detroit 17, California 9.

Unfortunately for the Tigers, you don't.

All it really amounts to is that the Tigers, the American League's second-place team, split a series with the Angels—winning one, losing one.

Detroit walloped the host squad 15-3 Tuesday night, but bowed Wednesday night 6-2 to the fourth-place Angels.

The Tigers, who had won 10 of their last 14 games before Wednesday, didn't have much of a chance after the second inning, when the Angels managed five runs on only two hits.

A single and a couple of walks loaded the bases. Then starter Dave Wickersham walked starter George Brunet, scoring one. Another Angel crossed the plate on Jose Cardenal's sacrifice fly before Ed Kirkpatrick unloaded a three-run homer into the right field stands.

Brunet, who retired after five innings, gained his fourth consecutive victory over the Tigers and his third this year. Wickersham (4-1) was the loser.

The Tigers managed a run in the third as Bill Freehan singled, Don Wert doubled and Dick McAuliffe boosted a sacrifice fly.

Detroit added an unearned run in the fourth as Al Kaline walked, sprinted to third on a Willie Horton single and a wide throw by Jim Fregosi. Kaline scored on Jim Northrup's sacrifice fly.

But that was all the Tigers could muster. The Angels added a superfluous tally in the fifth when Bill Monbouquette, the third of five Tiger pitchers, allowed Norm Siebern a bloop double, hit Rick Reichardt with a pitch and permitted Tom Satriano a run-scoring single.

In fact, the Angels even wasted a couple of scoring chances. In the first, Cardenal singled and Fregosi doubled on a ball lost in the twilight by Kaline. But Wickersham squirmed out of the hole by striking out Siebern and Reichardt.

In the sixth, pitcher Minnie Rojas led off with a double, but was out when he overran second base. Cardenal followed with a single, only to be thrown out trying to steal second.

The Tigers were unable to advance a runner past first base in the last four innings against Rojas, who lowered his earned run average to 1.46.

The Tigers take the day off today and fly back to Detroit. Friday, they'll host the Kansas City Athletics.

Beaten Netters Figure Santana Is Best Player

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Dennis Ralston, America's No. 1 tennis player from Bakersfield, Calif., won't win the coveted Wimbledon championship Friday in the opinion of Cliff Drysdale and Owen Davidson.

Drysdale and Davidson think Manuel Santana of Spain will beat Ralston in Friday's championship final.

Drysdale, the South African star who was defeated by Ralston in Wednesday's semifinals 6-8, 8-6, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, declared: "Santana is the finest player in the world today.

"Ralston comes in so strongly at the net, it needs a player with a lob to get the better of him. I don't have the lob among my strokes, but Santana has it. That's why I think Santana will win."

Davidson, an unseeded player from Australia who went down before Santana in the semis, 6-2, 4-6, 9-7, 3-6, 7-5, said:

"I think Santana will win this title. He has no weakness for an opponent to concentrate on."

Ralston, too, has plenty of respect for Santana's game, but asserted, "I think I can win."

Ralston fought back in fine style against Drysdale, after twice being a set in arrears.

The South African blamed the heavy schedule of the Wimbledon tournament, which he said had left him tired before the semifinal began.

Santana is the first European to reach the final since 1955, when Kurt Nielsen of Denmark lost to America's Tony Trabert.

Meanwhile, Billie Jean Moffit King carried the last remaining hopes of a singles title for the United States in the women's competition.

The Wightman Cup star from Long Beach, Calif., faced her old rival, Margaret Smith of Australia, in the women's semifinals today. Maria Bueno of Brazil was paired against Britain's Mrs. Ann Jones in the other semifinal.

Miss Smith, the defending champion, has played Mrs. King eight times and won six times.

Mantle Wallops Two More Shots In Yank Victory

By The Associated Press

Mickey Mantle's goal is 500 homers. There's some doubt, however, whether he can reach it this season.

There's also some doubt whether he wants to.

Mantle smashed two homers for the second consecutive night Wednesday, leading the New York Yankees to 6-5 victory over Boston and leading himself into a discussion of his future now that he has brought his home run total to 484.

"I'm counting the home runs," Mantle admitted, eyeing the 500-homer plateau. "But I may stop one short. It will give me an excuse to come back next year."

Mantle, whose hitting feats rank second only to his medical history, actually considered retirement after the 1965 season. But the Yankees talked him into undergoing a shoulder operation and giving it at least one more try before finishing a major league career that now spans 16 years.

Mantle, however, has been bogged down around the .250 mark most of the season, and he rarely has hit with sustained power. But he's feeling strong now, and proving it with seven hits, including the four homers, in his last 12 trips to the plate.

Mantle connected Wednesday for a three-run shot in the first inning and a solo blast in the third, giving him homers in three straight at-bats. But, in the fourth inning, with a chance to tie the record for most consecutive homers, Mantle settled for a single.

The homers brought his total for the season to 11 and left him 16 shy of his target — or is it 15?

While Mantle increased his homer total, Baltimore increased its American League lead to 3½ games by downing Kansas City 5-2. Second-place Detroit slipped back by bowing to California 6-2, Cleveland whipped Minnesota 4-1 and the Chicago White Sox blanked Washington 5-0.

In the National League, St. Louis edged San Francisco 2-1, Los Angeles walloped Cincinnati 9-5, Pittsburgh nipped Houston 6-5, the Chicago Cubs slugged Atlanta 9-5 and Philadelphia defeated the New York Mets 5-2.

A five-run second inning capped by Ed Kirkpatrick's three-run homer got the job done for the Angels. Tiger starter Dave Wickersham forced in the first run of the inning by issuing a bases-loaded walk to opposing pitcher George Brunet. Jose Cardenal hit a sacrifice fly and Kirkpatrick put the finishing touch on.

Gary Bell pitched a two-hitter and Leon Wagner drove in three runs with a homer and a double in the Indians' victory over the Twins. Bell allowed both hits in the fifth inning when Minnesota scored on a walk and singles by Jerry Zimmerman and Zoilo Versalles. The loss was tagged on Jim Grant, now 5-10.

Tommie Agee and Tom McCraw each smashed two-run homers for the White Sox while Bruce Howard and Bob Locker collaborated on a seven-hitter that kept the Senators scoreless.

Drysdale Snaps Six Game Losing Streak; Marichal Tastes Defeat

By The Associated Press

Don Drysdale, half a $1-million holdout in the spring, finally has become a five-and-ten pitcher.

The tall Los Angeles righthander won his first game in a month and pulled his season's record to 5-10 Wednesday night when the Dodgers beat Cincinnati 9-5.

But his bat played a bigger role than his arm.

Drysdale smacked a pair of singles in an eight-run Dodger third-inning outburst that should have made his first victory since May 30 a breeze.

It was more like a hurricane for the veteran pitcher.

Drysdale lasted until the seventh inning, giving up three runs on nine hits before finally being relieved by Phil Regan. Tony Perez' two-run homer in the eighth closed the gap but Regan hung on to save it.

The victory ended a six-game losing streak for Drysdale, who finished with 23 victories last year. And if you think he's been in a pitching slump, his two hits lifted his batting average to .234. He hit .300 in 1965.

Both the third-place Dodgers and second-place Pittsburgh picked up ground on National League-leading San Francisco. The Pirates pushed across a run in the last of the ninth for a 6-5 victory over Houston while Juan Marichal lost his third game as St. Louis nipped the Giants 2-1.

In other games, Philadelphia dropped New York 5-2 and Chicago rallied for seven runs in the ninth inning and a 9-5 victory over Atlanta.

In the American League, New York edged Boston 6-5, Baltimore downed Kansas City 5-2, Cleveland defeated Minnesota 4-1, Chicago shut out Washington 5-0 and California whipped Detroit 6-2.

Roberto Clemente's ninth-inning single delivered Matty Alou with the winning run as the Pirates downed the Astros. Alou had opened the ninth with an infield hit and moved up on Gene Alley's sacrifice.

Colwell Lake Fees Explained

Confusion has arisen regarding fees at the U. S. Forest Service campground at Colwell Lake, the ranger station here reports.

Understandably, the campground is a popular area recreation spot, readily accessible from M94 and located on a scenic and popular fishing lake.

A newly improved beach, two boat landings and facilities for 32 camper families are provided. There is a limit, however to the amount of development the area can be given without damaging scenic charm.

The area was developed primarily for camping and is not equipped to adequately handle non-campers. A noncamper can use the swimming beach or boat launching facilities free, provided he leaves his vehicle at the boat launching site and does not occupy a camping spot.

If a car is parked in the campground and uses one of the camping sites, a federal recreation entrance permit is necessary. It costs $7 and allows the car and occupants to enter any federal outdoor recreation area in the country, free. Otherwise a daily $1 fee must be paid. Campers using the campground in addition to the fees charged the noncamper pay a special user fee of $1 a night.

The Forest Service maintains several picnic grounds in the area which can be used without charge. Many have features equal to, and in some case, superior, to those at Colwell Lake. These areas and locations are:

Indian River picnic grounds, M94, five miles south of Colwell Lake; Pete's lake, off FFH 13, 11 miles south of Wetmore or 24 miles north of Nahma Junction; Camp 7 Lake, 11 miles north of Nahma Junction on FFH 13 to County Road 442 and west on 442 for nine miles and Moccasin Lake, 10 miles south of Wetmore on FFH 13.

Independent Within Six Years:

Soo Tech To Become A Four-Year College

DETROIT (AP) — Expansion of the Soo Branch of Michigan Technological University to a four-year degree-granting institution was approved today by the State Board of Education.

The board also announced that the university's Board of Control has agreed to a program leading to the Soo Branch becoming an independent college within six years.

Thomas Brennan, education board president, said the MTU board will ask the Legislature for authorization and funds that would enable the Soo Branch to become autonomous sometime between 1968 and 1972.

When it becomes independent, the university will be Michigan's 12th state-supported institution of higher education.

Start In Fall

Today's action was based mainly on a report from a special advisory committee which recommended last October that the university be authorized to extend present three-year programs in biological sciences, medical technology and business administration to four-year programs, starting next fall.

The committee also proposed that the Soo Branch eventually be given independent status with its own name, governing body and budget.

A formal seven page decision and opinion amplifying today's action is expected to be issued by the state board in a few days.

Brennan said the major conditions and considerations of the board's decision include:

— The extension is approved, with the assumption that the new college will add education strength and desirable diversity to post-high school education in Michigan.

—An assumption that the upward extension of programs will not simply be a duplication of existing programs either at MTU or other traditional programs.

Meet Total Needs

—An assumption that the upward extension of programs will not simply be a duplication of existing programs either at MTU or other traditional programs.

—An assumption that a careful study will be made to meet the total needs of the area and the state, with consideration being given to the possibility of establishing programs encompassing the vocational-technical area.

Brennan said another consideration was the fact that the state board has "clearly stated its opposition to additional university branches and that those which do exist should become autonomous in the near future."

Brennan added:

Fulfill Needs

"All of us on the state board believe the step we are taking today will fulfill the needs of the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula and northern part of the Lower Peninsula and at the same time contribute to the total system of higher education in Michigan."

He said the state board hopes the Soo branch, when it becomes independent, will develop a great variety of two—, three— and four-year technical programs similar to those offered by Ferris State College.

"Such protrams, if highly developed, would tend to attract students from all areas of the state," Brennan declared.

The Soo Branch, which opened in 1946, is located on the site of old Ft. Brady which was deeded by the federal government.

Ten years later, the legislature made the 66-acre Soo Branch a permanent part of MTU. It has 900 students and 50 faculty members.

The advisory committee predicted it would have 3,000 students by 1975 if it becomes a four-year college.

U.P. Schools Get Grants For Music

Ten Michigan school districts have been awarded federal grants to enrich their arts and humanities programs, the State Department of Education announces. The grants were made under provisions of the National Foundations on the Arts and Humanities Act passed by Congress last year. The funds must be used for purchase of equipment such as musical instruments, art supplies, books, records and record players and film strips.

Local districts must match the federal funds on a 50-50 basis.

Grants include: Delta County—Escanaba, art and music, $4,500; Marquette County—Marquette, music, $6,100.

HIGH-STYLE Hydrant — A model change may be catching up at last with that old street-corner standby, the fire hydrant. This sleek model of gray iron produced for use in Oakland, Calif., won a certificate of merit for design excellence in a national contest of the Industrial Designers Society of America. As reported by Steel Facts, magazine of the American Iron and Steel Institute, the look may be new but the works remain standard, designed to conform with fittings and tools now in use.

Garden Peninsula

Final plans for the third annual Homecoming Picnic of St. John's Parish were completed Monday night at a meeting of committee members at St. John's Hall. The chicken barbecue dinner will be served at St. John's Hall beginning at noon Sunday July 3. Games and entertainment are planned for the afternoon. David Pelletier is general chairman of the event and Mrs. Paul Guertin, vice chairman. The men of the parish are requested to meet Friday night, July 1 to set up booths and ready the grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Heafield, son John, and foreign exchange student, Toamus Tittoli of Finland spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Edith Heafield. Clyde Heafield of Dearborn was also a weekend guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Heafield and daughter Susan returned to Lindsay, Mont., Sunday, after visiting for a week with his mother, Mrs. E. Heafield.

Kates Bay Home Economics Club members who attended "College Day for Women" at Escanaba recently were, Mrs. Alpha Thibault, Mrs. Sid Lucas, Mrs. Walter DeGroot, Mrs. Earl Cota, Mrs. Steve Pscodna, Mrs. F. Rochefort, Mrs. Paul Guertin and Ann Martin and Dawn Cota. At the last meeting at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Anderson three pieced quilts were finished and made ready for mailing to Bay Cliff Health Camp. Mrs. Walter DeGroot will be hostess for the next meeting of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Duckworth and family spent the weekend at the Roland Boudreau home. The Duckworths were enroute from Marquette to Buffalo, N. Y. where he will be teaching social work at the University of Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeGroot returned recently from a visit at Coldwater with their son, Walter Charles.

Long Hair Takes Bathing Cap Rule

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP) — A rule that girls must wear bathing caps in the municipal pool has been extended to boys with long hair.

Officials said they decided to expand the rule after noticing an increasing number of boys were allowing their hair to grow long. They said accumulation of hair in the water clogs the pool filtering system.
